FRAUD EXAMINATION

Fraud Examination is divided into three basic aspects
• Fraud Detection
• Fraud Investigation
• Fraud Prevention

There is a very thin line between the fraud detection and the fraud investigation in India. To explain it in a simpler manner the detection process is carried out by the auditor (or the employees performing the similar supervision functions). Fraud Investigation is the work of the law enforcement officials like police department in India and the prevention is the work of the management.

FORENSIC ACCOUNTING

If you’re concerned about financial discrepancies and financial fraud, you need more than an accountant. Forensic accounting is the combination of the Accounting, Auditing and Investigation skills.
Forensic accounting is the specialty practice area of accounting that describes engagements, which result from real or anticipated litigation. Broadly speaking, these engagements fall into one of three categories: economic damages, assurance as to fraud in accounts or inventories or the presentation thereof, and business valuation. However forensic accounting is a gross area of operations of which fraud examination is a small part.
JOURNALS ON FRAUDS

Worldwide there are very few magazines on frauds – The fraud Magazine is world leader magazine and is published by the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners in USA. Few other magazines are published by the Universities in USA which conducts the courses on fraud examination or forensic accounting.

In India we don’t have many journals on the occupational frauds or the white-collar crime except the WhiteCrimes, which is published bimonthly. Indiaforensic Research Foundation from Pune publishes White Crimes.

Pradeep Akkunoor is the editor of the magazine and is supported by a team of experts from various fields.

Mr. Akkunoor is also the chief architect of the popular Indian fraud examination group termed as Indiaforensic. All the activities of this community are constructed by Mr. Pradeep Akkunoor.

HISTORY OF FRAUD EXAMINATION IN INDIA

Worldwide we consider Sherlock Holmes to be the first Forensic accountant, however the contribution of some of the historic characters in India cannot be ignored. In India Kautilya was the first person to mention the famous forty ways of embezzlement in his famous Kautilya arthashastra during the ancient Mauryan Times.

The research is triggered in India with a great speed and Pradeep Akkunoor pioneers the topic and has done a good research about the contribution of Kautilya in Forensic accounting. Pradeep who heads Journal of Forensic accounting in India have called Kautilya back in to the 21st Century and have started the series of conversations between the computer and Kautilya.

Birbal was the Scholar in the time of King Akbar. He used various tricks to investigate various crimes. Some of his stories give the fraud examiner a brief idea about the Litmus test of investigation. Gem of Indian Fraud Examiners, Chetan Dalal can be credited with actually applying the stories of the Birbal to the Investigation of the frauds. In various articles published in BCAS Journal he has explained how Birbal’s trap and Birbal’s Litmus test approaches are significantly used while investigating the accounting frauds.
